CHAPTER 15

It took two days until the duty lawyer, Elena, contacted them again. But she returned with an agreement signed by Nadja. The next day, she went with Dimitri to Yoni at the police station so that the trial could be canceled. After Yoni had recorded everything, he informed Dimitri that it would take about three weeks for the proceedings against him to be concluded by a judge and for his passport to be returned. Dimitri initially found this information devastating, but he saw no way to change anything about this situation. After his visit to the Haifa police station, he drove to the tennis club in Netanya, which was on the way back to Tel Aviv. He settled at the bar, ordered a vitamin shake, pulled out a notebook. As a light of write a list.

He was going to tidy up his life. There was no thing left to lose. Leah was preparing for the divorce. He had long lost contact which has both in Dror didn't want to talk to him, then so be it. His relationship with Nadja was also a thing of the past, which meant there was no risk in meeting Nadja to talk things out. What else could go wrong. The only thing that caused him quite a headache was Eli. Why couldn't he arrange a meeting with Eli? Was it because of Dror? Dimitri stared at his list. He wrote down everything that came to mind to distract himself for the next the neweeks.
